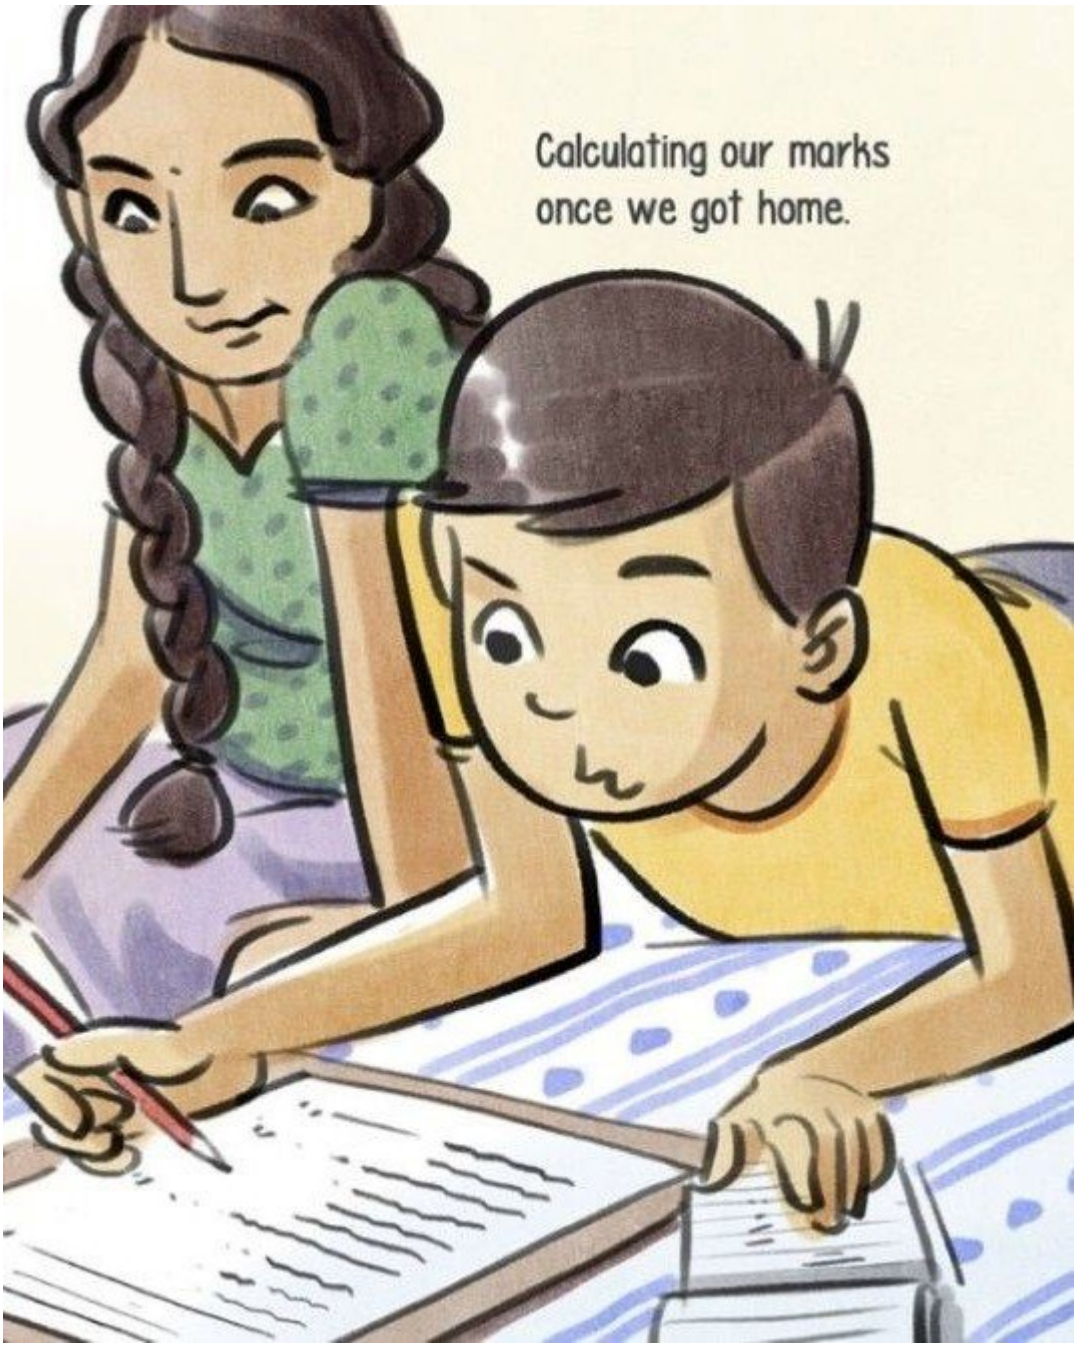
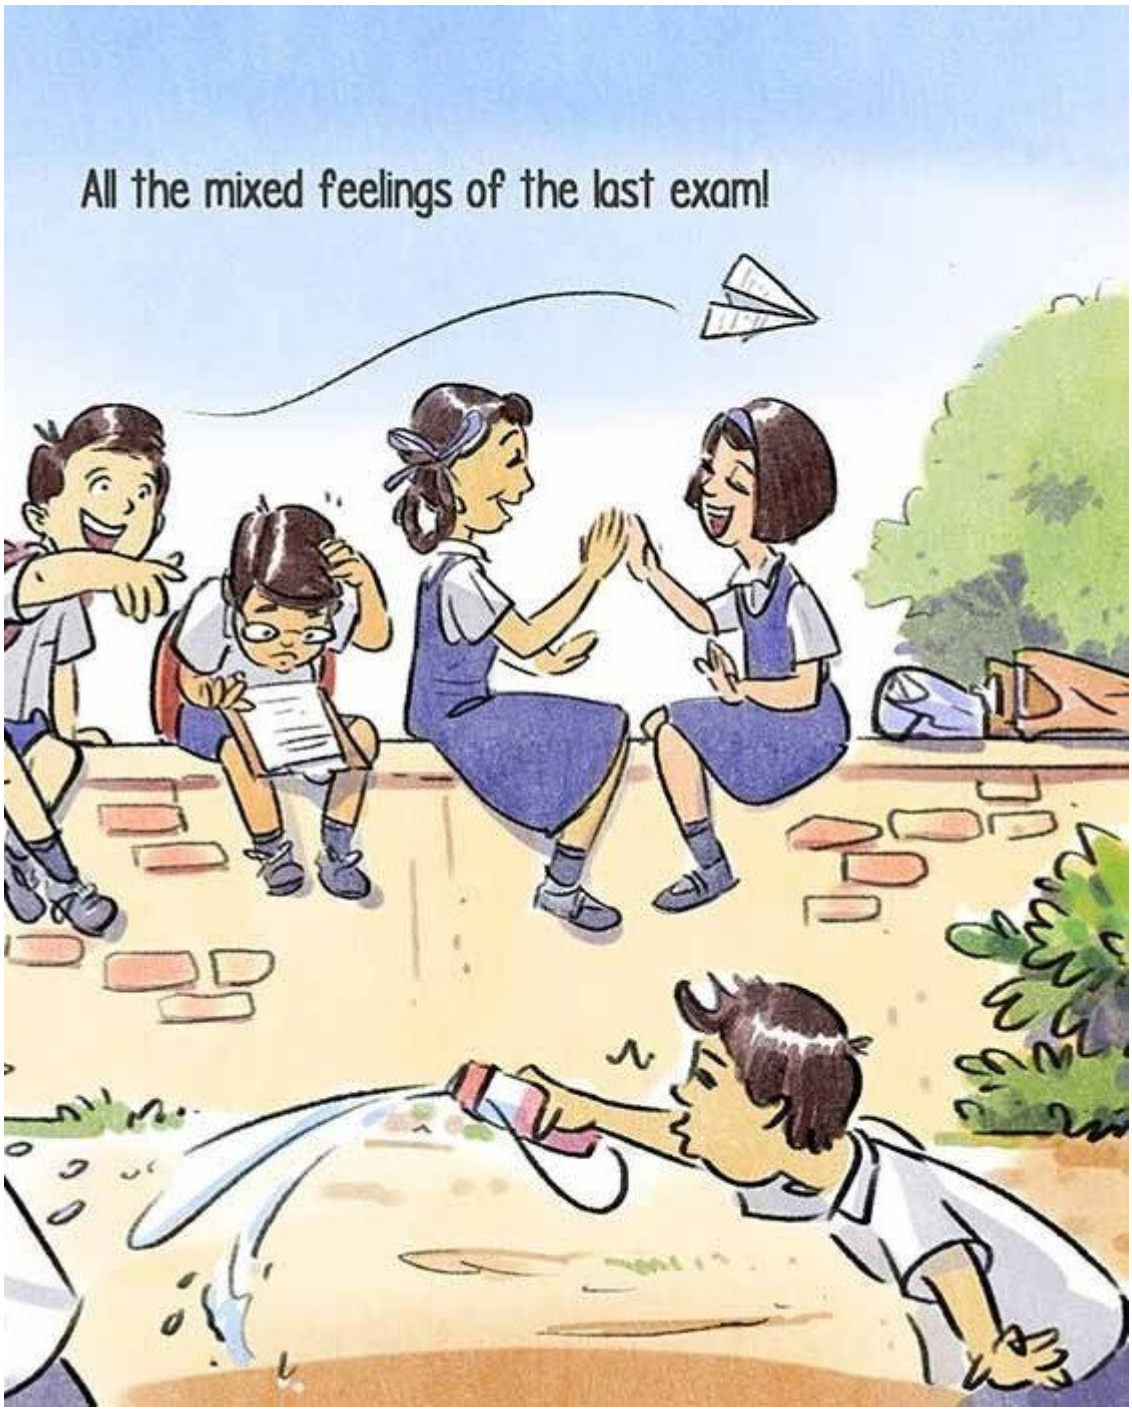
Marking highlights, study made easier at a glance, Colors and notes, organizing knowledge’s expanse. A visual roadmap, guiding the way to enhance.

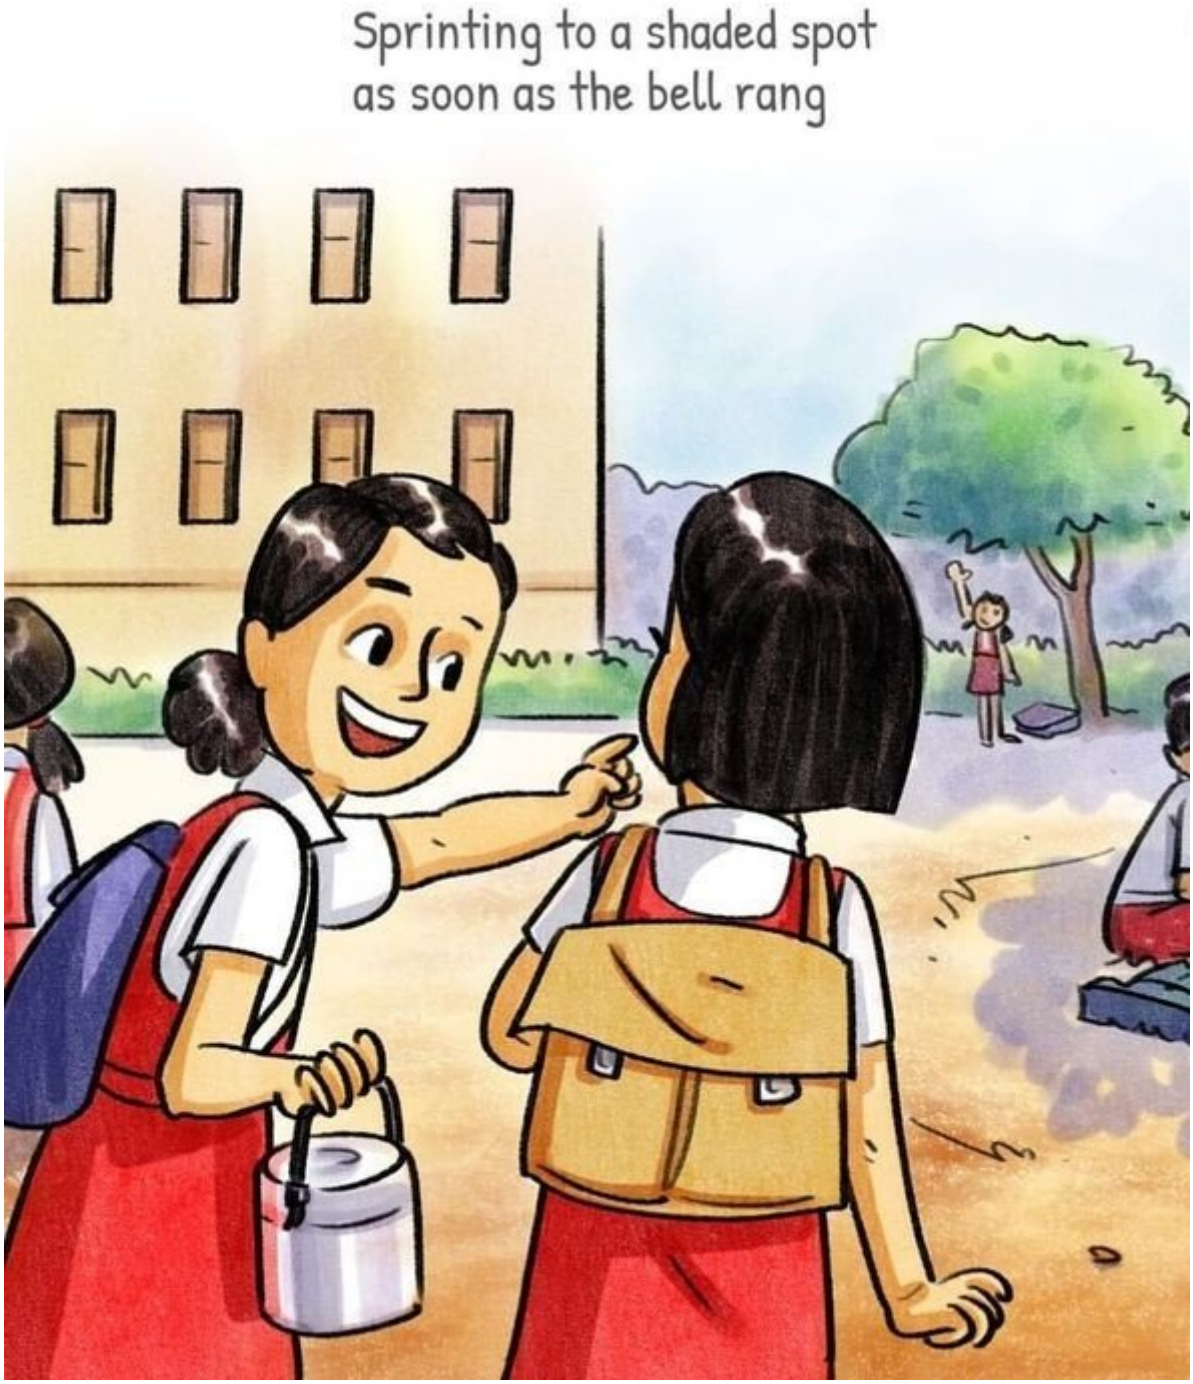


Calculating our marks once we got home, Anxiety and anticipation steadily grown.
Numbers revealing the seeds of efforts we've sown.

How does little me write in this long book?! With determination and an adventurous look.
Unleashing creativity, leaving traces that forever took.

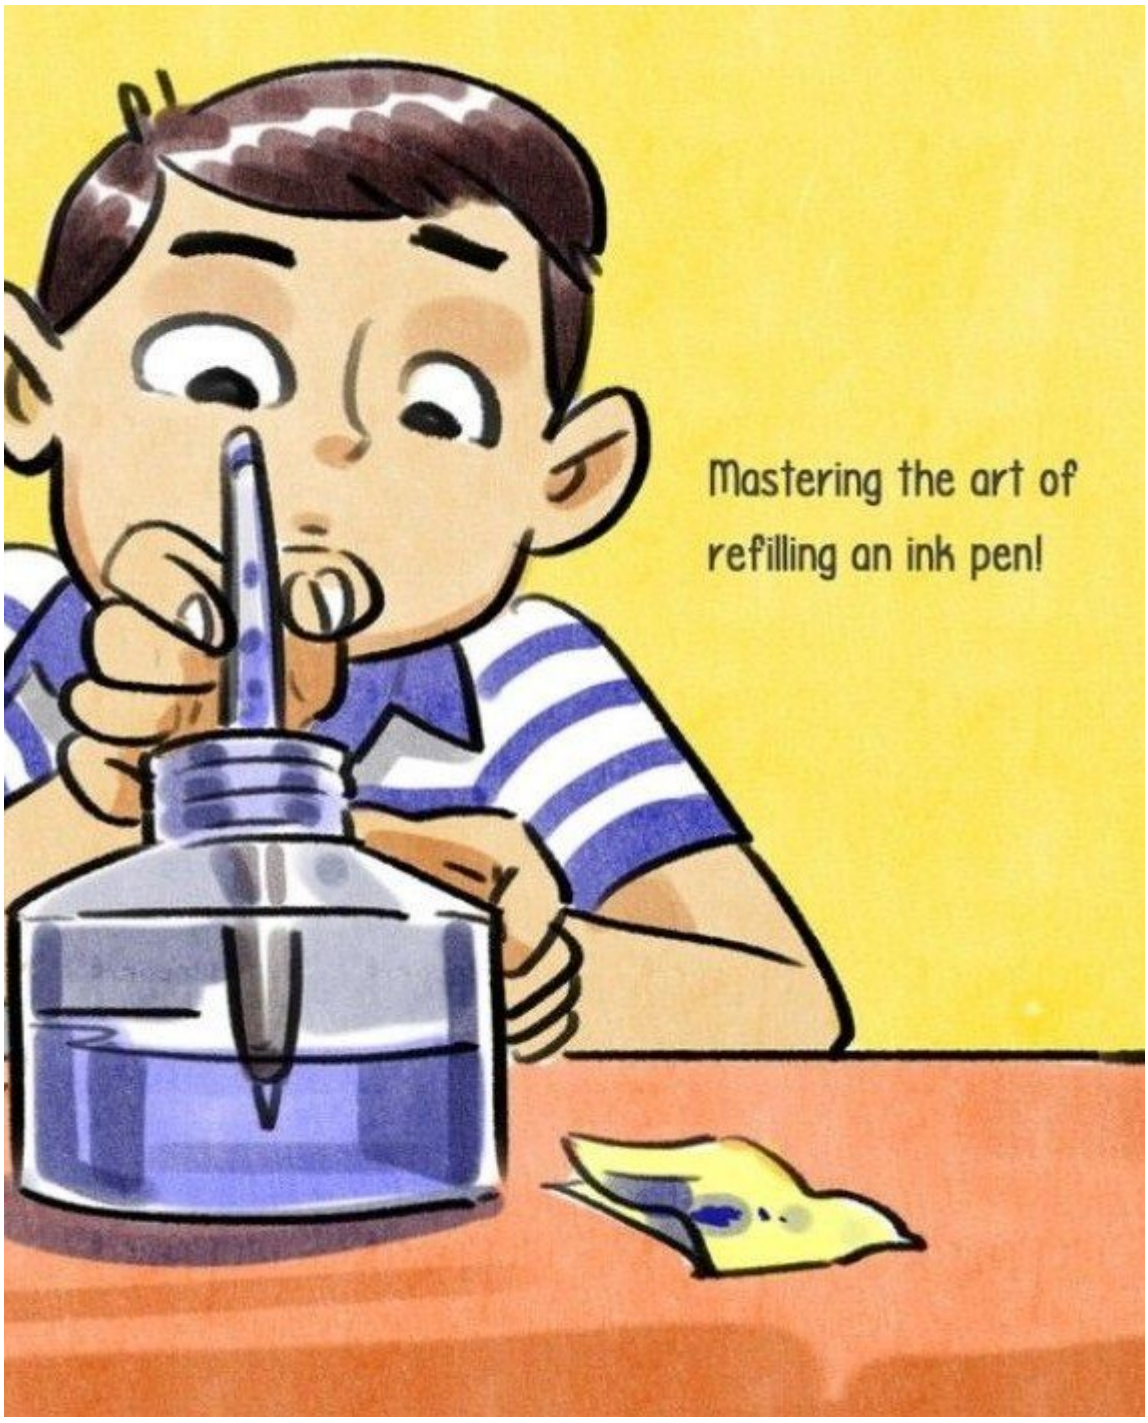


All the mixed feelings of the last exam, Nervousness, relief, and a touch of exam-cram. A rollercoaster ride of emotions, a pivotal moment's jam.



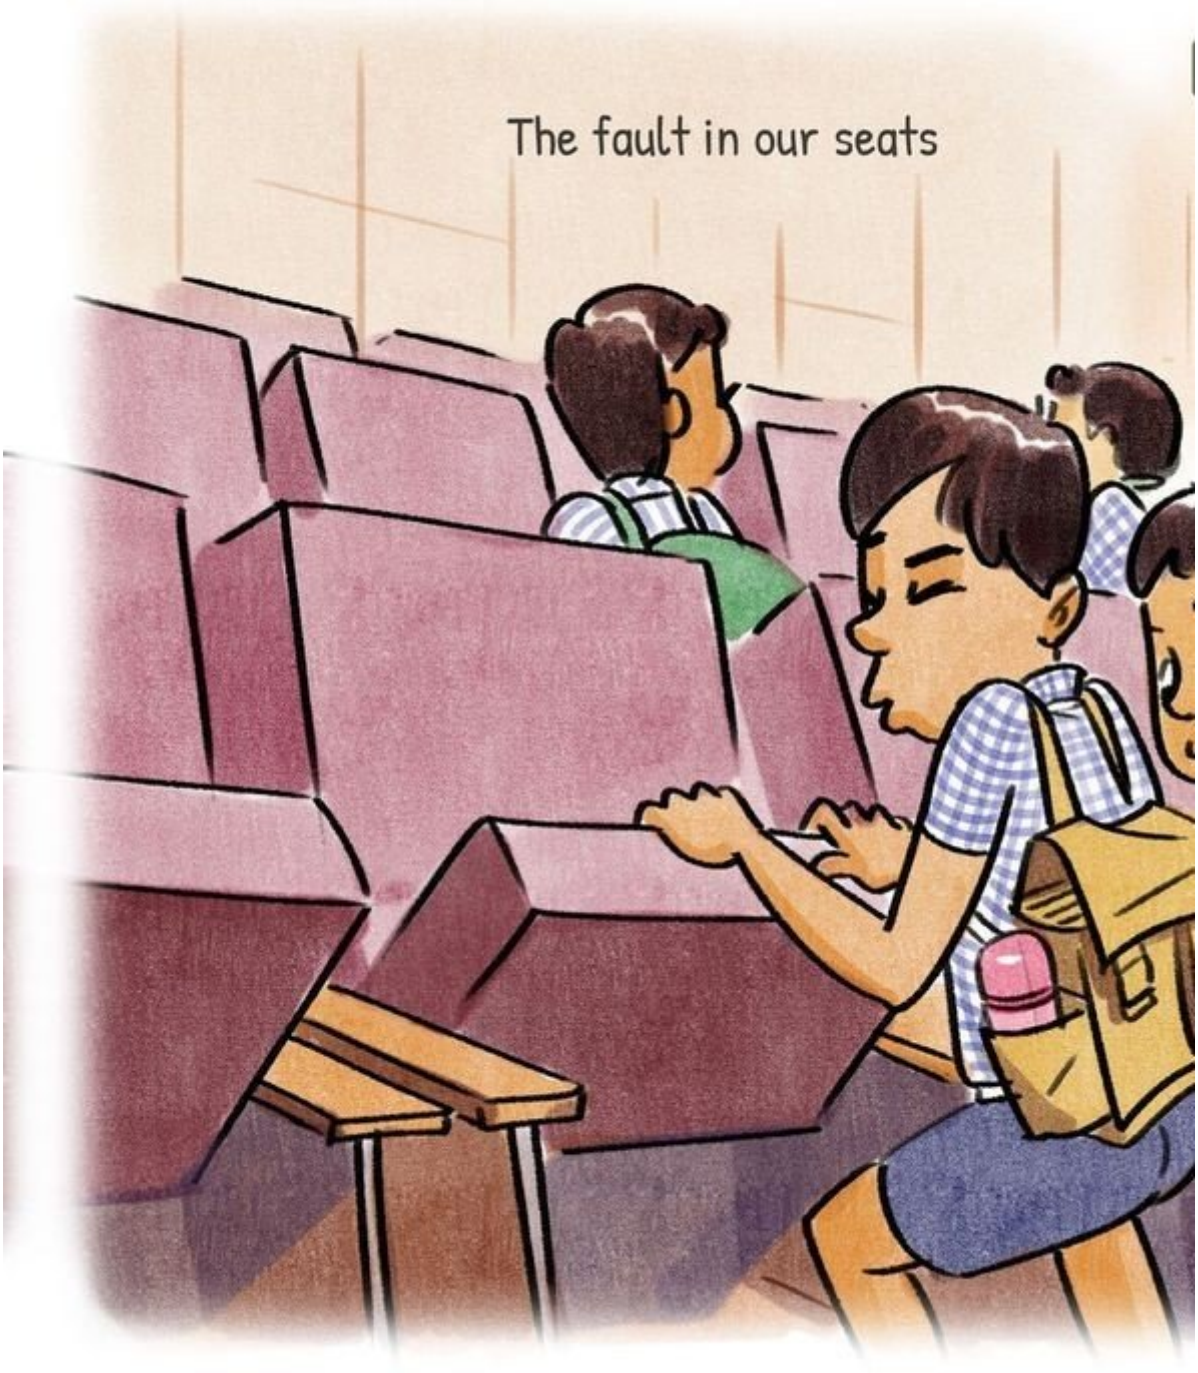
Sprinting to a shaded spot as soon as the bell rang, Escaping the sun's scorch, finding comfort that sprang. A moment of respite, a peaceful retreat we sang.

After-school motto: Teamwork makes the dream work! Together we thrive, conquer challenges with a smirk. Unified, we soar, leaving our mark, a legacy to lurk.

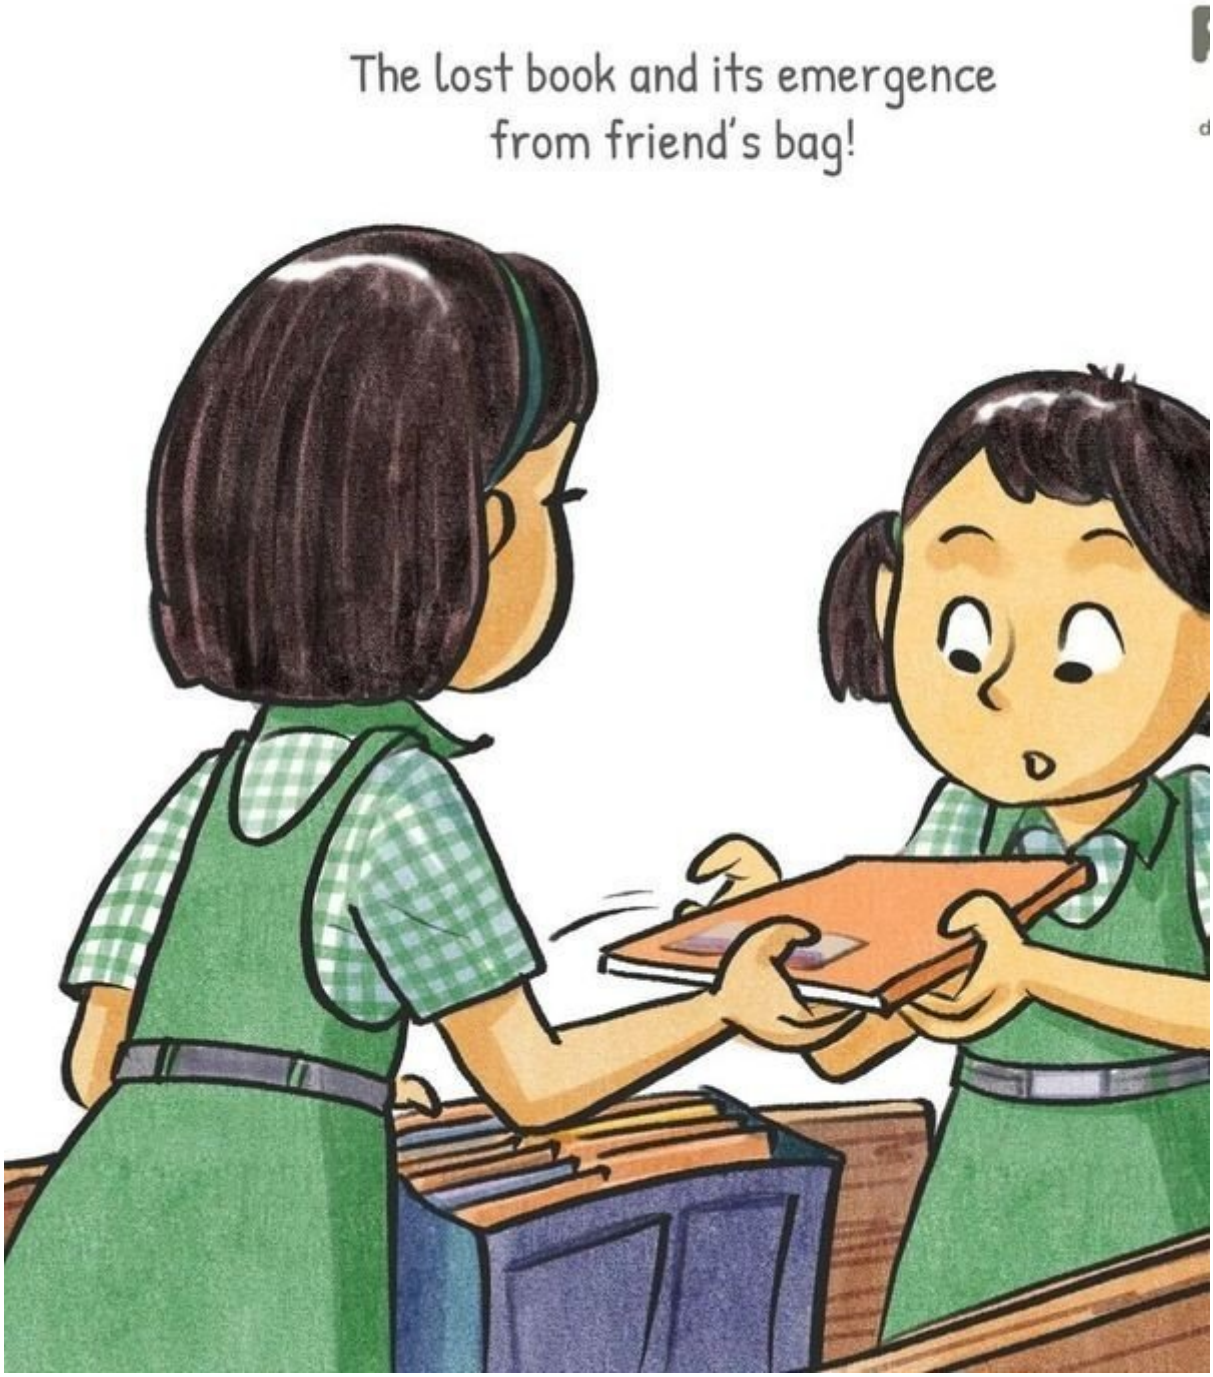


Mastering the art of refilling an ink pen, Precision and patience, a skill to comprehend. Ink flowing smoothly, words dancing, an elegant blend.

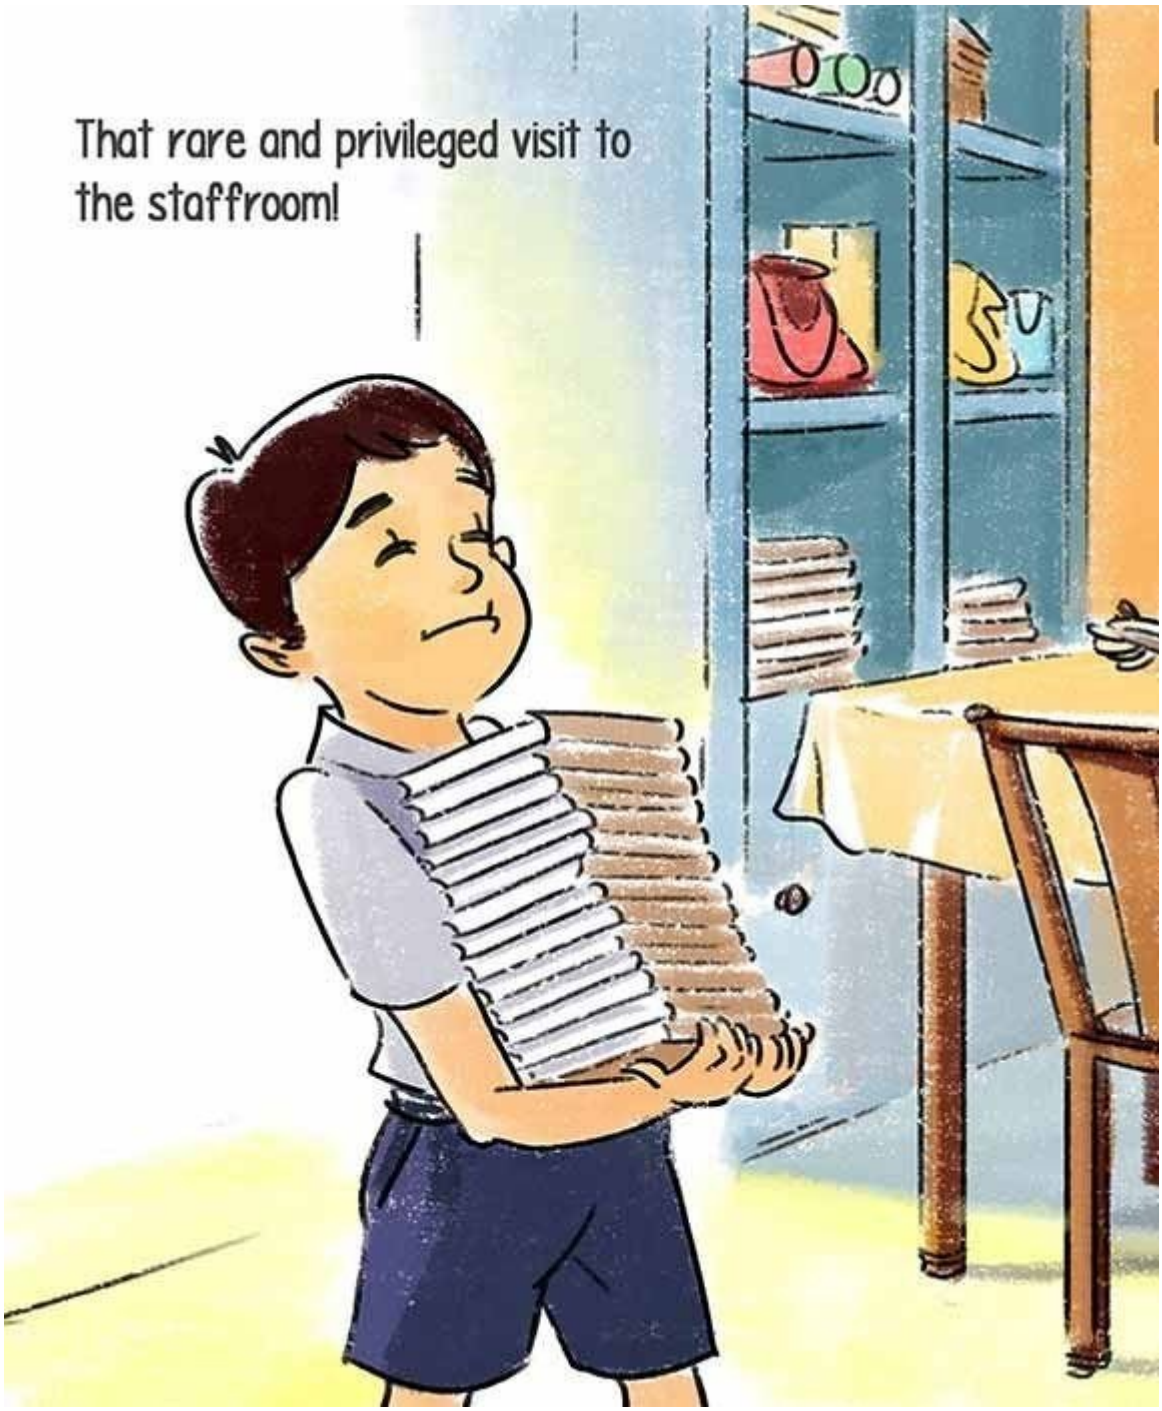
All bottled up to save the class,
A hero's duty, preventing a potential impasse.
Ink, glue, or wisdom, ready to amass.



“The fault in our seats, a challenge to overcome,
Wobbly desks and chairs, an inconvenience for some.
But together we adapted, finding stability as a sum.”

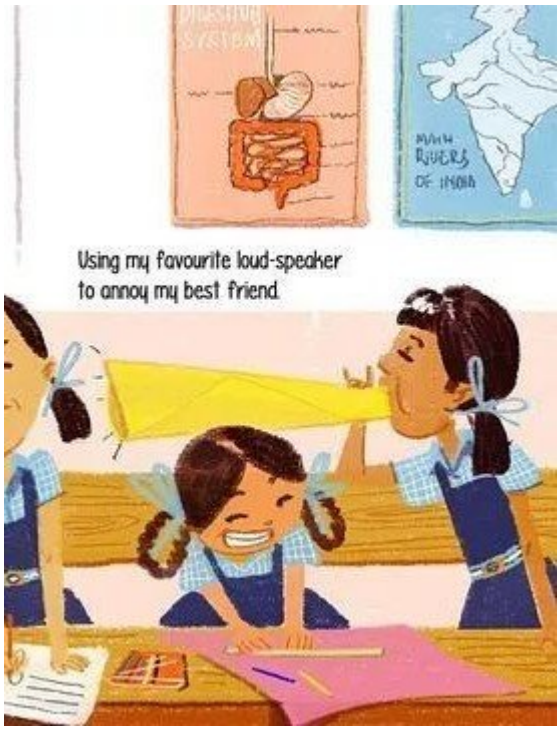


The lost book, vanished without a trace, Only to emerge from a friend's bag, a surprising embrace. A tale of serendipity, a memory we can't erase.



That rare and privileged visit to the staffroom, A peek behind the scenes, where teachers' magic loom. A glimpse of camaraderie, a memory to exhume.

New class, new nervousness takes hold,
But within the jitters, stories yet untold.
A chapter of growth, where friendships unfold.



Using my favorite loud-speaker to annoy my best friend,
Laughter and mischief, a bond we would transcend.
In playful pranks, our friendship would ascend.

Playing furniture Tetris, rearranging with care, Creating space for rehearsals, an intricate affair.
In the puzzle of logistics, our dedication would declare.
